The Newark Municipal Code requires that owners, tenants or occupants of homes in the City remove snow and ice from sidewalks adjacent to residential properties after snow ceases to fall or ice ceases to form. The Code requires that a path three feet in width be cleared on sidewalks in front of homes. If ice cannot be removed from sidewalks, the Code requires that sand or other substances be spread on the ice to make the surface safe for pedestrians. The City does not endorse any individual or business on this list. Nor does the City guarantee the quality of service of any such individual or business, nor endorse any rates charged for snow removal.
